01 About Me

Plot twist

i was supposed to be a developer

I started out in Computer Science and eventually found myself deep into mobile development. Turns out, spending my days staring at code wasn't exactly my idea of a good time. </>

I wanted something with more Color, movement and human interaction, something that felt alive.

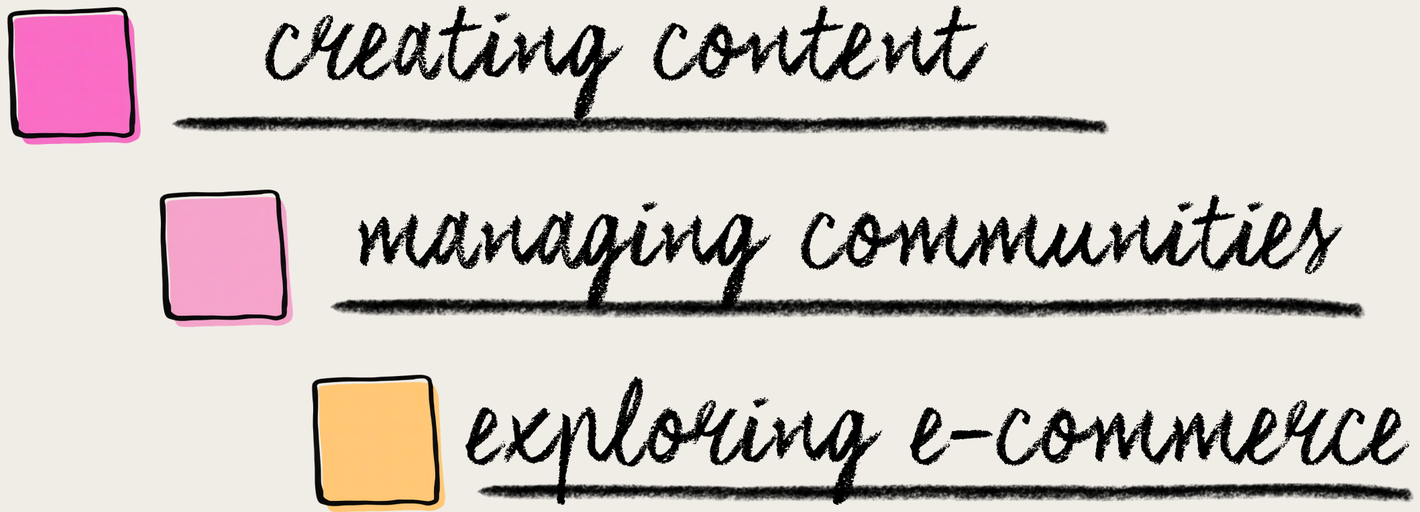

so i changed direction

I made my way into Digital Marketing, and suddenly I was doing things that actually felt like me: creating, thinking, experimenting, understanding people, building ideas and figuring out why some things make you stop scrolling while others make you go naaaah

and things started getting colorful

I went from writing code to :

and figuring out what makes people actually stop scrolling.

This was the part where I realized that I didn't have to choose between being analytical and being creative.

i could be both

02 Where I started getting my hands dirty

i didn't want to wait until graduation to start creating.

So while studying, I joined the Tunisian Red Crescent as a volunteer content creator. What started as a way to gain experience turned into years of creating content, managing social media and learning by doing.

organic performance

I generated over Thousands of Views Across Instagram & Facebook with zero budget, demonstrating that impactful storytelling and strategic hooks can outperform traditional advertising investments.

By identifying strong narrative angles, I ensure that my content reaches the right audience at the right time, entirely organically.

impactful storytelling

Complete media coverage and human centered storytelling for the mission to welcome injured Palestinians and the Sumud Flotilla mission. I managed the full production cycle under demanding conditions, highlighting these initiatives with dignity and strong visual storytelling.

- Over 8.5K views on Facebook
- 84% of the audience came from non-followers

event recap reel : summer school

I created an event highlights Reel showcasing the 10 day Tunisian Red Crescent Summer School. Using footage i captured throughout the training, I selected and edited key moments into a dynamic visual recap, combining different scenes, activities, and team moments with music to capture the energy and spirit of the experience.

Personal Note:
this was one of the most challenging yet rewarding experiences i've ever had in my life, a journey that pushed me beyond my limits and left a lasting impact on me.

strategic trends & innovation

The Ghibli Trend Initiative

I transformed institutional photos from a Ramadan Iftar into illustrations inspired by Studio Ghibli, blending a global viral trend with our cultural traditions.
This initiative generated over 4,600 views and strong engagement by capitalizing early on an emerging aesthetic.

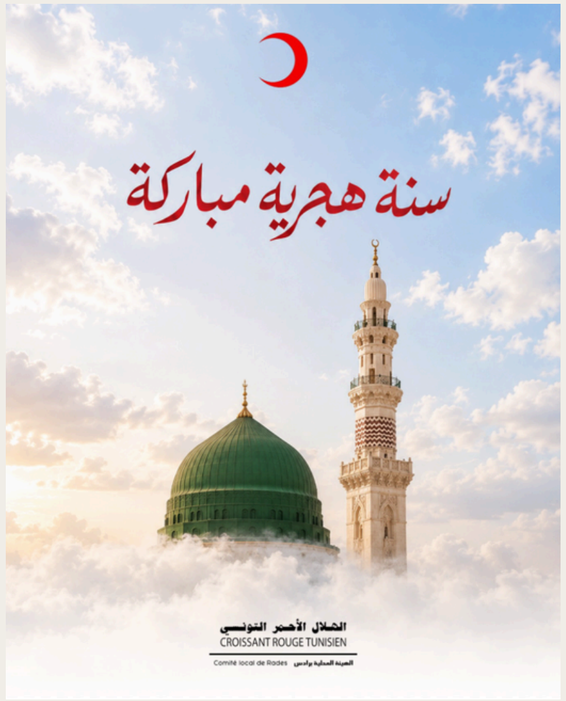

graphic design

I aimed to build a consistent visual identity across all posts by maintaining a cohesive structure, consistent positioning of graphic elements, visual style, and overall design language. This helped create a recognizable and unified look across the content.

other work im proud to share :

03 Then I went professional

After years of learning by doing,

i finally got to experience the agency side of things

for three months, I worked across Social Media, Community Management and E-commerce, from building strategies with clients to planning content, managing communities and helping bring campaigns to life.

Production & Creative Direction

I wrote scripts, developed creative concepts and provided visual inspiration for each project. I planned the shoots, coordinated schedules and arranged meetings with photographers and models. On shooting days, I assisted throughout the entire production process, ensuring everything ran smoothly and according to plan. I then stayed in contact with the editing team to follow up on post production and ensure the final content matched the original creative direction.

05 What's next?

the story isn't finished yet !

I've spent the last few years learning, experimenting and figuring out where my strengths fit best. Now, I'm looking for the kind of environment where I can keep learning, work alongside people who challenge me, and turn all that curiosity into something real.

still building.
still becoming.
and
ready for the next chapter..
